Celebrities Help in Dak. Campaign

Miss Anthony Reports Very Interesting Trip.

A campaign has been carried on in South Dakota with the idea of raising the people's standards of education to a higher level. Some of the best known people of the nation helped in this campaign.

The state was divided among four crews, with eighteen in each. The crews were then so divided that groups of two left each morning on their scheduled route to give lectures.

Each person gave two lectures daily and in this way a great many places were visited in a short time. The speakers traveled either by auto or rail.

Miss Anthony, from the College, who was in crew One, had a very interesting trip. Traveling was made exceedingly difficult because of the snow drifts which in some cases were twenty feet deep. Miss Anthony's crew was marooned at Mitchell on account of the snow.

The telephone wires were torn down and the trains were unable to run for three days. However, the crew had plenty of time to get acquainted and have a few social good times.

This is the same campaign in which Pres. Richardson worked during the last week in October.

Prizes are Offered for Good School Songs.

Get busy—and create an atmosphere of cheerfulness,—and do something worth while for your school,—and win one of the prizes for the five best school songs. These are the things President Richardson asked of the student body at assembly Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Five prizes of $5.00 each are to be given for the five best school songs. These songs must be typical school songs, full of "pep" and "go" and are to be chosen by a committee.

The prize is to be given to any organization or class to which the composer belongs.

A musical program of folk songs and old familiar songs which everybody knows was directed by Miss James at the assembly period.

New Courses Listed Which are to be Offered Next Term.

The fall term will close tomorrow, Nov. 26. The winter term will open Dec. 2. New courses to be offered are: Apparatus work, physical education for men; electrical wiring in manual arts; advanced course in play and games in physical education.

The Thanksgiving vacation covers the time between terms. Most of the students and members of the faculty will go out of town to enjoy "turkey" with home folks or to visit with friends.

The best wishes of the staff go with all, have the best time possible, speak a good word for our college, and come back ready to start the new term with "pep" enough to last.

Miss Anthony Presides at Meeting.

Before going to South Dakota, Miss Anthony went to St. Louis to preside over the meeting of the department of household arts. She was the chairman of this division in 1918-1919.

She also attended the banquet given by this department of the state association.

Primary Council Meets.

The local branch of the Primary Council held a meeting Thursday, November 20 at 4 p. m., in the Rest Rooms.

A report on the adoption of a new constitution and what it means to the elementary schools was given by Miss Brunner. Miss Annette Simmons gave a report and discussion of Julia Lathrop's address on Child Welfare and the Nation.

Discussions from the teachers on literature given through the story and poems completed the program.

Primary Luncheon Given in St. Louis.

The National Council of Primary Education met at a luncheon at the Hotel Statler in St. Louis during the Teachers Association with over three hundred men and women in attendance.

Miss Patty Smith Hill of Columbia University, New York City, was the guest of honor and spoke on the "Free Activity Period in the Grades."

Fay Holmes, a former student, who teaches near Maryville, visited friends in Maryville Nov. 18.

Miss Miller Talks at Meeting of Department of Rural Schools.

We give a few excerpts from the talk Miss Miller delivered in St. Louis, Nov. 6, at the meeting of the department of rural schools:

We are indebted to rural life for two things: First, the progress and growth of the country depends upon the fertility of soil, upon the opportunities that those tilling the soil have for intellectual advancements, for happiness and contentment. Second, the rural people with their broad interests and devotion to American institutions have recently through the Famous National Congress pledged themselves to a steadfast support of the free institutions of the American government and also have pledged themselves to law and order in industry and government.

The conservation of the American farmer is a bulwark, a means of defense or national protection against the dangerous foreign influences at work today.

Therefore, it is very necessary that we take an active part in shaping and determining the ideals of a rural people, in helping to keep up the fertility and productivity of the soil. It also behooves us to aid in advancing the intelligence and happiness of the rural people.

Remaking or vitalizing rural life means recreating the world in interests of men and women or humanity. The world is gradually growing smaller and smaller, therefore, struggle for possessions is becoming keener and keener. There will always be a limited amount of the things to possess, to own. Hence, a civilization based upon possessions alone is unsafe.

The emphasis in education as well as in industry and in commerce is to acquire, to mass, to horde information and money rather than to create and share. Our goal should be human achievement not unused information and money. Then through education we should begin to emphasize the creative and constructive impulses rather than the acquisitive impulse. We must find an outlet for the creative and constructive impulse in our education and industry.

Vitalized agriculture as taught in our State College uses the creative impulse; and initiative, leadership, working knowledge, progress in cooperation and moral growth, in-

Appeal Is Made for French Orphans

Need Is as Urgent Now as During the War.

"Is it too much to ask of the mothers and fathers of America, whose little children are sheltered and cared for," says Canon Cabanel, "this little help of ten cents a day for children of those whose wooden crosses mark the fields and highways of France?"

Father Cabanel, chaplain of the famous Blue Devils, and a member of the French High Commission, has been a guest of the United States for the past few weeks.

He was sent to America to visit the committees of the Fatherless Children of France and express to them the gratitude of France for the aid rendered during the war.

It takes only ten cents a day or $36.50 to care for a French orphan. The giver of this sum is constituted god-father or god-mother of one of the war orphans and is put in touch with it through correspondence.

Mrs. Walter C. Brewster of Chicago, will be glad to mail some literature to any one inclosing to her at Room 928, 410 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, a self-addressed envelope.

Any persons or organization, wishing to adopt one of these war orphans may send $36.50 to Mr. R. F. Forbes, of the First National Bank, St. Joseph, Mo., by Dec. 23, 1919.

All instructors in this college who supported a French child last year have been asked to support it again this year as the need for aid is just as necessary now as it was during the war.

More godfathers and godmothers are needed as many children are unprovided for. This is a chance for each of us, by combining with others, to help these little children.

Who Will Win?

President Richardson has given an incentive to the musically inclined of our school. He has offered to any society or association a five dollar prize for a real, lively, up-and-coming song. As many as five prizes will be given if that number of worth while songs are written.

cluding service rendered to others are the results of such teaching.

Things can be done to bring about a social consciousness, a society that will be ready and willing to serve the interests of all. First, there must be a purpose, an aim that gives a motive power — that calls forth an inner urge that carries the man and woman or the boy and girl on. Second, we must have a constitution or Board of Equalization that will give the state more taxes so we may have more money to spend in our rural schools. Better salaries, better equipment must come if the state does its duty toward rural life.

Our rural communities, like our cities, must have the advice of engineers, architects, and landscape gardeners in planning their roads, buildings and grounds for their homes and public institutions.

They must have a better social life including better health conditions; modern conveniences; labor-saving devices for the house; and better co-operation between the town and country.

Annette Simmons, who teaches the third and fourth grades in the demonstration school, visited at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, last week on her way back from the State Teachers Association. Miss Simmons graduated from Lindenwood a year ago and enjoyed visiting her many friends among the faculty and students. While there Miss Simmons attended the annual birthday dance given by the Juniors for the president's wife, Mrs. J. L. Roemer. She also attended the musical tea given by the honorary musical sorority.

H. S. Seniors Have Party.

Again we hear the name Seniors. Thursday, Nov. 13, the high school seniors enjoyed a line party at the Empire Theater followed by refreshments at the Candy Kitchen.

Those present were: Helen Baker, Osa Coler, Marjorie Daugherty, Essie Gustin, Bertha Magg, Elizabeth Moore, Hester Shipp, Ovylet Pence, Leta Babb, Susie Crockett, Malcolm Wells, Harry Nelson, Arthur Elmore, Glenn Anderson, and Myron Babby.

Mr. Max Williams and Miss Claudine Woolen were married Nov. 6, at Stanberry. Miss Woolen is a former student of the College and has been a teacher in Gentry county. Mr. Williams is the editor of the Stanberry Herald and has been recently discharged from the navy.

Our Exchange List.

The College here has been receiving exchanges from many of the colleges in the state and from several schools in other states.

"The Southwest Standard" from Springfield, "The Capaha Arrow," from Cape Girardeau, "The Index" from Kirksville, and "The Student" from Warrensburg, come from the four State Teachers Colleges.

Among the papers from other colleges in the state are: "The Westminster Fortnightly," from Fulton; "The Criterion," from Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron; "The Park Stylus," from Park College, Parkville; "Drury Mirror," from Drury College at Springfield; and "Tarkio College Phoenix," Tarkio.

Bellingham, Wash., sends "The Weekly Messenger;" Caldwell, Idaho, "The College Coyote," and Aberdeen, S. D., "The Exponent."

Flagler, Colo., and Shamokin, Pa., send high school papers. We get several other high school papers that are published by schools in Northwest Missouri.

Mr. W. S. Smith, Dr. J. H. Coursault, and Mr. W. W. Martin, members of the visiting committee of the Conference of State Educational Institutions, made their annual visit of inspection at the school Thursday, Nov. 20. Mr. Smith represents the State Dept.; Dr. Coursault, the University, and Mr. Martin, the State Teachers College.

Last week they finished visiting all of the state schools.

The exterior woodwork of the College is receiving a new coat of finish. The work was begun last Thursday.

Resolutions Passed to Encourage the Teaching of Art.

More attention should be given to art education in the United States. The Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, has published resolutions about the importance of good design and highest workmanship. Some of the provisions are:

"Whereas, It has been shown that good designs and the highest type of workmanship in American manufactures are absolutely necessary to enable the United States to hold a foremost place in the world's commerce and compete with designers abroad; and

"Whereas, The time has come when we must recognize the importance of art in education and the value of enhancing our products artistically; be it

"Resolved, That credits equivalent to those allowed for other subjects be given for art work in schools; that the board of education, regents and superintendents recognize the importance of providing better training in free-hand drawing, design and color practice, and provide salaries which make possible the continued service of competent art instructors and supervisors of art and manual training in order that the talented students may find opportunity for train ing that will make it possible for them to meet the demands for more efficient services in the industrial arts and the greater society."

Miss Winn went to Princeton in Mercer County, Saturday morning, Nov. 22. She gave an address on the subject, "Better English Teaching."

The faculty meeting, Nov. 18, was held at President Richardson's residence. Reports of the State Teachers Association were given. A social hour, which was very much enjoyed by all, followed.

On Thursday, Nov. 13, Miss Dow, Miss Wilfley, and Miss Hanna went to St. Joseph with Miss De Luce in the new Ford. As it was dark before they started home and a hold-up on that road had been reported, it seemed necessary that some one carry a loaded revolver. Miss Dow did it and she reports that she thinks she could shoot a man.

Boost 'Em.

Students did you ever stop to consider that you should back those who back you?

The Standard has a group of advertisers who represent the best dealers in town in their respective lines.

These advertisers are behind the school, boosting it in the way that an institution of this kind should be boosted.

Read the advertisements and patronize these wide-awake, up-to-date business men.

Our Friends.

Teachers College students and teachers of the Southwest district should desire to know exactly the Springfield business men and firms who are loyal supporters of our institution. There are some very definite ways of finding our city friends.

Business men may not know — they may not care to know—that college students are finding out who attend our contests and pull for this institution. We know those who are purchasing season tickets. We are learning who our boosters are. The business firms of Springfield will find that Teachers College students appreciate their support.

Some of our city neighbors may not know that the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College is the greatest institution of its kind in the Southwest. They will realize it some day. Moreover, many business firms may not have the foresight to estimate the growth of this college during the next ten years.

Fellow students, inform yourselves as to who our city supporters are. Give them every consideration they merit. Help them; they are helping us.

The two articles printed above were clipped from the Southwest Standard of the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College and they are equally true of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. Our students should remember that we want to patronize those who patronize us.

Most of the business men of Maryville are our friends and help us in every way possible. We thank them, and want to show our appreciation by patronizing them and by co-operating with them for the good of Maryville and of the College.

Many County Superintendents are Our Former Students.

Among the new county superintendents who were elected last spring were Mr. A. A. Earp of Carroll County, whose wife, formerly Mary Lance, has been a student in the College; Mr. D. D. Hooper of Andrew County, Mr. Fred Roach of Buchanan County, Mr. E. N. Carter of Harrison County and Miss Edna Craven of Worth County, who are all former students.

Among the county superintendents re-elected were Mr. A. H. Cooper of Nodaway County, a member of our alumni; Mr. Earl Duncan of Gentry County, and Mr. D. N. McClintock, who are also former students.

Judge McCormick, of San Francisco, says there are thirteen fundamental mistakes of life:

1. To attempt to set up your own standards of right and wrong.
2. To try to measure the enjoyment of others by your own.

BLYTHEDALE.

Blythedale consolidated with four adjoining school districts Aug. 26, 1919. They will add another year of high school work next year and have made application for a vocational agriculture teacher.

Oct. 30, Blythedale defeated Eagleville in basket ball at Blythedale, 56-17. Nov. 14, at Eagleville, the score was 28-16 in Blythedale's favor.

The principal of the Blythedale public schools, Leslie G. Somerville, a former student of the College, will be the Courier reporter.

OREGON.

Carl W. Rose, a former student here, is reporting news for the Oregon high school.

The Oregon High School basket ball team defeated the New Point High School team at New Point Friday evening, Nov. 14, 39 to 27.

The game was fast throughout. The New Point team started out to overwhelm their opponents at the start, running up a score of 20 to 16 in the first half. The Oregon team got started, however, and at the conclusion of the game the score was 39 to 27, in Oregon's favor.

The girls' basket ball team of both schools met the same evening. The Oregon girls were the victors by three points, the score being 13 to 10.

Throughout both games the spirit of good clean sportsmanship was manifest.

The boys have played five games of which they have won three. The girls have played three, of which they have won two.

PICKERING.

The Pickering basket ball team defeated Burlington Junction at Pickering, Nov. 13. The score was 40-15.

The high school students were entertained by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades Nov. 14. The Reverend Mr. Green also talked to the students.

TRENTON.

H. S. Debate Subject Announced.

Letters have been sent out by the recording secretary to the sixty-eight schools that at present are members of the N. M. H. S. A., announcing the question for debate this year: "Resolved: That the National Government of the United States should own and control our Merchant Marine."

This is the same question that is being used in the State High School Debating League. As many of the schools will compete in both series of debates, it has been thought best, in order to save time and effort, not to select a new question.

Last year, very few schools entered debating, due in part to the influenza epidemic. The indications are that a large number will enter this year.

Haley Hooker and Wave Hornbuckle went to St. Joseph Thursday, Nov. 13, to attend the second number of Mrs. Francis Henry Hill's concert course. This number was given jointly by Joseph Lhevinne, Russian pianist, and Jacques Thibaud, French violinist.

Nola Mitchell, 1917, is supervisor of music in the school in Tyn dall, South Dakota.

Fred Vandersloot, B. S. 1917, is enjoying his work at Benton. He sends his regards to all his friends among the student body.

Mable Curnutt, 1919, is getting along nicely with her work in the domestic science department in Ord, Nebr. The Omaha paper spoke very highly of the successful dinner which her class served to four hundred people two weeks ago. Miss Curnutt went to Omaha last week to attend the teachers' association.

Warren Breit, B. S. 1917, superintendent at Forest City, attended the State Teachers' Association last week. The Board of Education sent him at their own expense. Mr. Breit spent the week-end in Maryville.

Allen Willis, 1919, spent the week-end visiting Maryville friends. Miss Willis teaches in the high school in Ravenwood.

George Wamsley, B. S. 1916, was slightly hurt in an automobile accident last week. He and his father were going home to dinner in the car and the train ran into them as they were crossing the track. His father was injured more seriously.

Elizabeth Cook, 1916 who teaches in Benton School, St. Joseph, is home on a ten day vacation. Benton is closed because of the coal shortage.

Ella Moore, B. S. 1919, who is teaching home economics in La moni, Iowa is enjoying her work very much.

Jessie Fannon, 1919, spent the week-end in Maryville. She teaches near Ravenwood.

Do you read each week the Green and White?

If not, why not?

Do you boost your College, say it's all right?

If not, why not?

Do you work while you work and play while you play?

If not, why not?

Do you give your best to every task each day?

If not, why not?

The October 22 copy of the College Coyote of the Idaho College has an interesting editorial on "School Spirit." It has set us to thinking. We would like to ask, what is really meant by School Spirit? Who has it? How can we get it? Is it worth while when it is gotten?

Spirit has so many meanings. It means energy. Where? On the athletic field while playing a game? Yes, indeed. Should it be limited to that place or should it have begun in the class room the day before and have extended to the class room the day after? I wonder. Where? On the side lines rooting and yelling? We think so. Of course you can't yell and root on the side lines if you are not there. You can tell the players you hope that they will win, but they will have more confidence in what you say if you put words and actions together.

Spirit also means vivacity. When, where? At the party, in the games, on the floor? Most certainly. What about the first recitation period the following morning? I wonder.

Spirit, likewise is ardor. Ardor for what, English, history, chemistry, stenography? All these and more.

Enthusiasm is another phase of spirit. Enthusiasm for what, singing in assembly? Whose singing, your own or your neighbor's? Enthusiasm in attending society and taking part in the program. Enthusiasm in speaking of your college, in boosting it, in standing by it.

Moreover, spirit means courage. Courage to live your best each day. Your college is you and you are it. It can not be more or less than you are. Courage to do the hard things as quickly and as proficiently as the easy ones.

School spirit may be displayed thru your paper. Do you read the Green and White? Do you like it? To whom did you tell that? Have you any suggestion that will improve it? It's your paper. The staff will gladly hear all suggestions and act upon them as best they can. Do you know of any news? Any member of the faculty will gladly add it to his memorandum for his reporter, and the reporters can't get too much news. Every reporter is an avaricious person, he just eats news, he lives on it. It isn't for himself alone that he has such a news craving. It's for you who are here and you who are away.

Let's get a genuine attack of School Spirit. We want the real thing however, not a deformed, one sided something, that works one place but not another. We want a School Spirit that will help us to get into the game no matter what it is and play it according to the rules of true sportsmanship.

Conference Standing in Football.

The following was the standing of the Colleges in the Missouri Conference:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Missouri Wesleyan	5	0	0	1000
William Jewell	3	0	0	1000
Drury College	1	0	0	1000
Springfield College	1	0	0	1000
Kirkville College	1	1	1	500
Tarkio College	2	2	1	500
Cape Girardeau College	1	2	0	333
Rolla	1	1	0	500
Warrensburg College	1	3	0	250
Central College	1	3	0	250
Maryville College	0	3	0	000
Westminster College	1	3	0	250

As the season is drawing to a close it would seem that the race for the championship had narrowed down to Missouri Wesleyan and William Jewell.

Mr. Rice refereed the game at Tarkio between Tarkio and Missouri Wesleyan Nov. 15. Mr. Swinehart acted as head linesman. The game resulted in a score of 20-0 in favor of Missouri Wesleyan.

Mrs Dow attended the game between William Jewell and Westminster Nov. 15. The score was 75-0 in favor of William Jewell.

Chinese Girls Write Essays in English.

Very high class work is being done in composition written in English by Chinese young ladies in the American Mission School at McTycire in Shanghai.

Some of the subjects are: The Lace Industry of China; Chefoo Lace; Handicraft; A Ricksha Coolie; and Use of Bamboo.

A copy of the Shanghai paper was received by the Courier and they have asked to be placed on our exchange list saying, "We want the Chinese to know what America is doing."

The pupils of the Kirschner School, which is south of St. Joseph, between the city and Lake Contrary, gave a box supper Saturday evening, Nov. 15. Preceding the supper an interesting program was given under the direction of the teachers, Misses Walters and De Bondo.

Miss Walters attended the College in 1918.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

President Richardson gave an illustrated lecture to the health control class on Nov. 18. The subject was "Your Mouth and Your Health." Lantern slides were used.

ENGLISH.

All students who would like to take Journalism, English 24 should see Miss Winn before completing their enrollment. This class gives two hours credit. Students who have had English 11 may take this course. It is not necessary to be elected to the Courier staff; other students may be members of the class.

Advanced Composition, English 21, will be offered during the winter quarter at ten o'clock. All students who wish five hours in Composition should enroll in this class.

Students who are taking chemistry from 8 to 10, who wish to take Browning at 9 may do so. The days for the meeting of the Browning class will be so arranged that there will be no conflict with laboratory hours.

AGRICULTURE.

The class in animal husbandry went to Burlington Junction, Monday, Nov. 17, to see the herd of Angus cattle belonging to C. D. Caldwell and the herd of Herefords belonging to O. F. Wilson.

That these are excellent herds is evident from the fact that Mr. Caldwell recently sold a bull for $45,000; and Mr. Wilson sold 30 young cows for $25,000.

MANUAL ARTS.

Instead of running a "Do You Know" campaign like the Kansas City Star, the manual arts department will start this coming winter quarter a "Student Should Know" campaign. Every week two dozen or more questions of class interest will be posted on the bulletin board and the students will be expected, when requested, to give an intelligent report.

A new 2-quart International Electric Glue Heater has been ordered for the department. It works on the principle of a "fireless cooker" displacing the old-fashioned, wasteful, inefficient and uneconomical methods of glue handling.

After two months of waiting the large grind stone, better known as the "Old Joker," is ready for work. Many knives are being sharpened each day.

WANTED.

Ancient tools, any description, kind, or size, suitable for exhibition and study.

MATHEMATICS.

The following courses in mathematics will probably be offered next quarter: College algebra, 61b; trigonometry, analytical geometry, and solid geometry.

Two or three courses in algebra, and a course in plane geometry will probably be offered for the high school.

COMMERCIAL.

Mr. Metzler's beginning class in shorthand has completed thirteen lessons in the text book. The work has progressed rapidly and the class will continue this the next quarter.

BIOLOGY.

The electives offered in Biology for the winter term will be Bacteriology and Genetics. The course in bacteriology will be adapted to the interests of the general student rather than to the trained specialist and the laboratory manual will be readjusted to meet this viewpoint. Most of the deadliest foes of life and many that are harmful or beneficial to the activities of man are found among this host of unseen forms that occur in abundance at every turn of investigation. Examinations and study will be made of the bacteria of water, milk, soil, sewage, diseases, industries, putrefaction, fermentation, household arts, and the human body. The methods of analysis and control measures such as sanitation, preservation, disinfection, and immunization, will constitute an important part of the work.

The course in Genetics will deal with plant, animal, and human heredity, of experimental work, of the relation of environment, of improvement through breeding, and of the conservation of human heredity.

A course offers a wealth of interest on one of the obscure yet captivating and important phases of life.

EDUCATION.

Practical work is being done in the Educational Psychology class thru the training school.

Reuillard's

Where They All Go.

Miss Miller and Miss Brunner are working with Miss Arnett in this and are showing by actual demonstration that psychological theories can be applied to school work.

The main object of this work is to study the application of instincts or original tendencies to teaching. Moral and religious tendencies were utilized and developed in the history classes conducted by Miss Brunner. Miss Miller took charge of the children of the primary grades. Each observation furnished excellent material for the classroom discussions which followed.

This work is entirely new and offers an unusual opportunity to the students.

Miss Dow went home Friday morning, Nov. 14 and stayed until Sunday. The interurban seems to have a grudge against Miss Dow, to make her miss the train to Maryville so often.

THE GREEN AND WHITE COURIER

THE STROLLER has been too busy this week writing this ad to stroll. Don't you think it's a corker? The Stroller doesn't brag very much but he will say that he is beginning to think he is rather versatile. Last week, he wrote poetry, and now just to show you that he is not all crank, and can earn his living in a good American way that the Americans understand, he has taken to ad writing.

The Stroller hopes that you will digest what he has to say this time, and act upon it so that she will know if he can earn his living by writing ads. To tell you a secret, that is the Stroller's ambition.

Maude Fleming spent Nov. 13 to 17 at her home near Hopkins.

Foods Classes Serve Breakfasts and Luncheons.

The College foods class is giving a series of meals. The first was a breakfast which was given Nov. 1. The second meal of the course was a luncheon served in the dining room of the home economics department Tuesday, Nov. 18. The menu was:

Fruit Cocktail

Fried Oysters Mashed Potatoes
Asparagus in Crustades

White Sauce

Tomato Jelly Salad
Cottage Cheese Dressing

Hermits Coffee

The menu was simple, but the very formal Russian style was used in serving it.

The girls in the class are: Viola Barber, Neva Wallace, Mary Woolridge, Vi June Colden, Elizabeth Leet, Mrs. White, and Roine Gray. The last meal of the series is a dinner to be served Tuesday, Nov. 25.

The Junior High School Foods class closed their term with a breakfast given Wednesday, Nov. 19. The menu was:

Grapefruit

Corn Meal Mash—Cream—Sugar

Omelet — Bacon Garnish

Toast

Waffles

Chocolate

Y. W. NOTES.

At the Y. W. meeting Wednesday, Nov. 19, the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass of the Christian Church gave an excellent talk on, "Interesting Questions About the Church."

He asked, Why is it that the church lives? He answered the question by giving two reasons: First, because the church enjoys the protection of God; and second, because it enjoys the aid of truth.

Mr. Kay, who is assisting Mr. Snodgrass in his services, sang a beautiful song, entitled, "Why I Love Him." Mr. Kay also gave a whistling accompaniment to the song, "Red, White and Blue," which was much enjoyed.

Mr. C. B. Ahrens spoke at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, Nov. 16, in the interests of Stephens College. Monday morning he spent a short time in our institution.

Dean Colbert thought the serenaders last Thursday night, Nov. 13 had a rather unique selection of songs. "Maryville Will Shine Tonight" was a rather striking way of calling attention to the fact that the city was without lights, except for a few candles.

We understand that several members of the faculty were visited by the serenaders.

Vella Griffith, Omaha, Nebr., was the guest of Jennie Bristol, Nov. 10-11.

Elizabeth Moore spent Nov. 13-16 at her home in Clarksdale, Mo.

Freida Peoples visited home folks from Nov. 14 to 16.

Our Students All! Have You Enjoyed Your Work at This College?

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

- That one boasting word of yours is worth pages of ours
- That the bigger and better you make your school, the prouder you will be of it
- That you and you only can make it serve the largest number.
- That we have your best interests honestly at heart.
- That another student might enjoy the work here as much as you have enjoyed it.

LET US ALL RESOLVE:

1. That we will bring or send a new student to the College some quarter this year.
2. That we will support our College, or
3. That if we can't honestly support it, we will get out and hunt one that we can.
4. That we will boost, boost, BOOST for our College.
